The Healing Power of Love

When Goldie arrived at the shelter, she was in sad shape. Rescued from a hoarding situation, she was filthy, severely matted, thin, and terrified. She had suffered from severe neglect, and was mentally and physically depressed. With medical treatment, grooming, and a special diet, she gradually recovered her health. But even though she gained weight, and her hair was now full and glossy, she couldn't seem to recover emotionally. The little dog cowered when approached, avoided eye contact, and wouldn't even take a piece of hot dog offered by a volunteer. The staff had done all they could for her, but what she needed next was lots of love, and time. She needed a home where she would be nurtured, and learn to trust again.

Fortunately for Goldie, that's just what happened. Elizabeth visited the shelter one day and when she saw the sweet spaniel mix curled up in the corner of her bed, there was an instant connection. She took her home, and over the next few months, she worked miracles with Goldie. This past December, Elizabeth brought her by the shelter to show us how

Stubby

Last summer, Sylvia moved to Texas to care for her grandchildren after her daughter was deployed. She gave her beloved cat, Stubby, to her son to watch while she was gone. But not long after, her son lost his apartment.

He tried to find Stubby a home, but when he couldn't, he reluctantly brought him to the shelter. He was upset, and Sylvia was crushed, but she understood.

There was nothing she could do from so far away.

Then her daughter called from Afghanistan to say how much Stubby meant to her mom, and how desperate she was to reunite them. If she paid to fly Stubby to Texas, could the Humane Society arrange it? Of course. It took a few weeks to research the options, get him a health certificate, and figure out the logistics, but finally it all came together. A volunteer drove him to Atwood's Pet Transport, who got him to the airport, and Stubby was on his way home.

Thanks to a loving daughter and persistent staff and volunteers, a soldier's heart was lightened, a woman was reunited with her pet, and the shelter had one less cat to place.

Scratch and Stretch

Cats have a natural need to stretch their front legs, scratch, knead, and rub their faces, so the Humane Society is providing each cat with a small cardboard scratch box made especially for shelter enclosures. They can claw, rub, head-butt and stretch to their heart's content, and when the cat goes home, the box goes, too. It's familiar and comforting, and has their own smell, which provides a seamless transition to the scratching post in their new home.

much the little dog had improved. She said Goldie had been "completely shut down" at first, and constantly afraid of getting in trouble, but she gradually learned that she was safe. When she walked into the shelter, the staff hardly recognized the confident, happy, playful little pup she had become. She greeted everyone with her head held high and a sparkle in her eye. Goldie had found the loving home she deserved.

Best Friends

Katie, a sweet, friendly shepherd mix, got quite the surprise when she went home with her new owners. There, she found her best friend, Skye, waiting for her. It had all started a month before, when the two dogs tangled with a horse, and Katie was kicked in the head. Both dogs were brought to the shelter, where Katie had surgery to remove her damaged eye. While she was recovering, a young couple came in and adopted Skye, the playful, gentle Rottweiler mix that Katie had grown up with.

They had been wanting a dog for a long time, and Skye was perfect for them. They adored her! But a few weeks later, as they were looking through their adoption packet, they noticed her ID photo showed two dogs. Curious, they looked on the shelter website, and found that another dog had come in with Skye, and was still at the shelter. They came back, and when they saw how loving Katie was, they took her home, as well. The two friends are now reunited, and couldn't be happier.

After Five Years, Home at Last!

Thanks to a microchip, Charlie and his daughter were reunited with their beloved cat, Jack, who went missing back in 2009! He came in as a stray, and the staff found he had a microchip, but it took some persistence to find his owner.

The microchip company provided two phone numbers, but they were both dead ends. Fortunately, they also provided the name of the cat's veterinarian, who provided two more phone numbers. One number led to the owner's mother-in-law, who called Charlie. He rushed right down to the shelter, amazed that Jack had found his way back to them after all this time.

They were thrilled to have him back, and Jack was pretty happy, too. He started purring like a motorboat as soon as he landed in Charlie's lap.

The Humane Society for Tacoma and Pierce County 2013 Annual Report

From the President

One of the exciting things about serving on the Board of Directors is helping the Humane Society grow and evolve. The field of animal welfare is changing rapidly, and I am proud of how the Humane Society responds to each challenge and opportunity. As the number of homeless pets entering the shelter gradually declines, we are able to use more resources to enrich the experience of our shelter pets and provide what they need to find homes quickly. We can also increase our support of owners who need assistance, so their pets can stay in their homes where they belong.

Our Humane Society of today is a far different place than it was just a decade ago. Last spring we launched a campaign, called “Make Happy Happen” to spread the word that our Humane Society is a happy, positive place where animals are well-cared for until they find a new home or are reunited with their owners. As you can see from this Annual Report, our Humane Society’s core programs focus on providing essential care for homeless animals and helping to create a community where every pet is treated with compassion and respect. Our Pets for Life program, which assists pet owners in under-served neighborhoods, completed its first full year in 2013 and is proving to be a vital tool in keeping pets in their homes. Thanks to a generous grant by the Gary E. Milgard Family Foundation, we were also able to expand our Pet Food Bank and help pet owners with the cost of vital veterinary care. These programs, among others, are allowing us to enrich the lives of pets and their owners and truly allow our Humane Society to “Make Happy Happen.” We could not have done this and continue to do this without your generous support of our efforts.

The Humane Society has come a long ways in the past 125 years, and, we owe it all to you, our generous donors and supporters. Every day, you help lost pets find their owners, and abandoned and neglected pets find new, loving homes. You provide affordable spay and neuter surgeries, medical care for ill and injured animals, and support to keep pets in their homes.

Because of you, pets in our community find the help, and the hope they need. Thank you all for allowing us to “Make Happy Happen” in our community!

Chris Marston,
President, Board of Directors

Finding Homes for Shelter Pets

Delphine visited the shelter often, looking for just the right pet. And when she saw little Suzie, her heart melted. The little poodle had spent most of her life in a crate, and was desperate for someone to love. When Suzie jumped into her lap, there was an instant, mutual agreement: Yes! This is the one I've been waiting for!"

► In 2013, the Humane Society found loving homes for 6,542 lost and abandoned pets, giving them the chance for a new start and enriching the lives of their new owners. 791 pets were adopted through local Petsmart and Petco stores, as well as Metropolitan Veterinary Hospital and other off-site venues. 451 pets found homes after being transferred to other animal welfare organizations. 18 feral or under-socialized cats were placed with owners in rural areas as “barn cats” or altered and returned to an existing cat colony.

Reuniting Lost Pets with Owners

► Last year, the Humane Society reunited 1,729 stray pets with their owners, including Jax, who accidentally slipped out the door one day and disappeared. His owner searched the shelter daily, and when she finally found him, safe and sound, she was overjoyed. The Humane Society not only shelters and cares for lost pets, we personally escort owners through the shelter so nothing is missed, and provide lost pet resources such as posters and flyers to help in their search.

Caring for Shelter Pets

When pets enter the shelter, we do everything we can to reduce their stress and keep them comfortable. Dogs have raised beds, Kong toys filled with treats, daily walks, and bathing and grooming if needed. They may also receive basic obedience lessons with “clicker training,” which helps them focus and anticipate rewards for calm behavior. Cats have soft bedding, roomy enclosures with separate litterbox access, toys, privacy when needed, and petting and play sessions called “Purr Time.” Multiple cats can stay in our Petunia Louise Community Cat Room, where they can roam, climb, play, and lounge in the sunlight while awaiting adoption.

► 913 shelter pets were fostered: 719 puppies and kittens, 50 nursing mothers, 80 for medical or behavioral therapy, and 64 awaiting adoption.

► Cats enjoyed petting, brushing, and play-time with volunteers during 516 “Purr Time” sessions. Volunteers also took dogs for 5,984 walks and 161 “clicker training” classes.

► 1,960 shelter pets were bathed and groomed, and more than 3,000 received medical treatment.

The Humane Society's Walk for Homeless Pets

Improving the Lives of Community Pets

Our mission to “promote positive relationships between animals and people” means that we want to do everything possible to help keep pets out of the shelter, and to ensure they are safe and cared for in their homes. The Senior Pet Pantry delivers pet food to house-bound seniors who might otherwise be unable to keep their pets. Teams of volunteers canvass under-served neighborhoods to help with pet problems, and offer free spay/neuter vouchers and vaccines. Pet owners who cannot afford vital veterinary care can also find help. Working together, we are creating a compassionate community where every pet is safe and loved.

- ▶ 780 pet owners in under-served neighborhoods received assistance, 1,061 were vaccinated and 408 spayed or neutered through the Pets for Life program.
- ▶ 3,636 families received help feeding 9,756 pets through the Pet Food Bank and Senior Pet Pantry. 581 pets received assistance with the cost of veterinary care through the Community Pet Care Fund.

Eliminating Pet Overpopulation Through Low-Cost Spray/Neuter

Low-cost spay and neuter surgeries have been the key to reducing pet overpopulation by 75% in the past ten years. As we reach “zero euthanasia” of adoptable pets, we will continue to ensure that every pet owner has access to this vital surgery, and that the most vulnerable pets and owners receive assistance.

- ▶ 2,964 pets belonging to low-income owners were spayed or neutered last year, including the Cinderella Fund, promotions such as “Spay Day”, Pit Bulls altered through the “Responsi-bull” program, and free vouchers given to cat owners who brought kittens to the shelter.

Celebrating Pets and Raising Funds for Shelter Programs

Every summer for the past 23 years, pet owners from all over Pierce County gather to walk their dogs and raise pledges for the Humane Society. From a small walk raising $150, the event has grown each year, attracting more walkers, and more donations – all to help homeless pets. Funds from the Dog-A-Thon support programs that provide veterinary care for shelter pets, enrich their experience while at the shelter, and help them find permanent, loving homes.

► $240,000 was raised at the Humane Society's 2013 Walk for Homeless Pets, and thousands of people and their pets celebrated the joys of pet ownership.

Engaging Volunteers to Meet Our Mission

Every day, you can find Humane Society volunteers working to improve the lives of homeless animals. Whether they are assembling adoption packets, delivering pet food to a house-bound senior, or staffing a vaccine clinic, our volunteers ease staff workload and provide care and comfort to thousands of shelter pets.

► Last year, 610 volunteers gave 76,326 hours to help homeless animals, through 25 different volunteer positions.

Janie, a regular volunteer at the Humane Society, noticed Dudley was acting shy and nervous in the shelter, so she took him home for a week to build his confidence. It worked, and he soon found a home with a loving family.

From the Director

I am excited to report that we are on the brink of finding homes for all adoptable pets. For the past five years, we have been able to find homes for every adoptable dog we receive, and last year, no cats were euthanized for lack of space. The 122 adoptable cats we could not find homes for all had significant health or behavior issues. They were considered adoptable, however, because their conditions were treatable. This coming year, we are committed to providing treatment, and finding homes for, every adoptable cat. Our goal is to reach zero euthanasia, offering euthanasia only when it is the most humane outcome. With your help, we have made great strides in ending pet overpopulation, and with your continued support, we know we can reach this goal. Thank you!

With gratitude, we also thank the generous individuals who contributed at the "Members" giving level in 2013. In addition, we thank all those who supported the Society by participating in Dog-A-Thon 2013, donated a vehicle, participated in workplace giving programs, gave something extra in donation boxes, or donated pet food and supplies to the shelter. On behalf of our board of directors, staff, volunteers, and the animals in our care, the Humane Society thanks you!
